What The Brewers Think.
"One of Kansas' temperance workers recently, while traveling on the train, engaged his seatmate in conversation, which, after a few minutes, naturally drifted to the question of the prohibitory law. His companion proved to be an agent of the Schlitz Brewing company, and in the course of the conversation said:

"Anybody who says that prohibition does not prohibit is either a fool or a liar. I am now on my way to Wisconsin. I also work in North Dakota, and I can tell you that in Wisconsin in four days than I can sell in North Dakota in four months. Our company is not telling this, but we are doing all we can to disgust people with prohibition, so that if the question ever comes to the people they will vote out prohibition."—The Kansas Issue.

SIMPLE WASH CURES ECZEMA.

Itching, Burning Skin Disease Rooted Without Use of Injurious Drugs.

Great inventors often have been praised for surrendering the secrets of their discoveries. Practically the same thing happened in the medical world in the case of Dr. Deaneur D. Dennis, the eminent skin specialist of Chicago.

Dr. Dennis, in his own office practice, discovered that pure vegetable oil of wintergreen, properly mixed with other simple remedies was practically a sure specific for Eczema, psoriasis, barber's itch, salt rheum, and other itching skin diseases. But the oil of wintergreen alone was found ineffective. It required other mild ingredients such as glycerine and thymol compounded with the wintergreen, to produce the real eczema cure.

This compounded D. D. D. Prescription positively takes away the itch at once; the instant it is applied to the skin. This vegetable liquid does away with deleterious drugs so long used in an attempt to doctor the blood, whereas modern science has determined that eczema is first and all the time a skin disease.

If you want to know more about the merits of D. D. D. Prescription, call at our store. We vouch for this remedy.

SELF RELIANCE.

The Lesson That Was Taught to Henry Ward Beecher.

Henry Ward Beecher used to tell this story of the way in which his teacher of mathematics taught him to depend upon himself:

"I was sent to the blackboard and went, uncertain, full of whimpering.
"That lesson must be learned," said my teacher in a very quiet tone, but with a terrible intensity. All explanations and excuses he trod underfoot with utter scornfulness. "I want that problem. I don't want any reasons why you haven't it," he would say.

"I did study two hours."
"That's nothing to me. I want the reason. You need not study it at all or you may study it ten hours, just to satisfy yourself. I want the reason."

"It was tough for a green boy, but it sounded me. In less than a month I had the most intense sense of intellectual independence and courage to defend my recitations.

"One day his cold calm voice fell upon me in the midst of a demonstration, "No!"

"I hesitated and then went back to the beginning, and on reaching the same point again 'No!' uttered in a tone of conviction, barred my progress.

"The next! And I sat down in red confusion.

"He, too, was stopped with 'No' but went right on, finished, and as he sat down was rewarded with 'Very well!'

"Why? whimpered I. 'I recited it just as he did and you said 'No!'

"Why didn't you say 'Yes' and stick to it? It is not enough to know your lesson—you must know that you know it. You have learned nothing till you are sure. If all the world says 'No' to your business is to say 'Yes' and prove it."

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

The fitted skirt with its fold trimming is going out slowly, but its end is inevitable.

The most effective house frocks are modeled upon original lines largely dependent for their distinction upon the individuality of the wearer.

Even more than at present is a vogue for the one piece tailored suit or dress promised for spring, so that whatever you has in that line now, is sure to be quite as good style later on.

At the opening of the season it was announced that fur would be largely utilized as a trimming, but the fur clothes turned out to be so handsome and so very much more adaptable for the purpose that they easily took the place reserved for the fur.—New York Post.

A Helping Hand.
When the foreign missionary had concluded his talk, he made the usual appeal for contributions, however small, says Success Magazine. Coming up to the platform with several others, a small boy mounted to the level of the lecturer and, hastening toward him, said:

"Please, sir, I was very much interested in your lecture, and—and—"
"Go on, my little man," said the missionary encouragingly. "You want to help in the good work?"

"Not exactly, sir," said the boy.
"What I want to know is, have you any foreign stamps you don't want?"

A Chocolate.
A chocolate is distinctly a woman's function, frequently taking the place of afternoon tea. The refreshments all have chocolate in some form.
There is hot chocolate with whipped cream to drink, chocolate ice cream, chocolate cakes with white frosting of white cakes with chocolate frosting and chocolate buns. As chocolate is apt to become cloying when no other flavor is employed, the sandwiches are preferably of plain bread and butter, while olives, stuffed or plain, and salted nuts fit in well with the chocolate scheme.

Penalties of Being a Bachelor.
The ancient Romans were severe with their bachelors, who were made to pay heavy fines, and, worse than that, Camillus, after the siege of Veii, is recorded to have compelled them to marry the widows of the soldiers who had fallen in war. In the time of Augustus married men were preferred for public office. The Romans who had three children were exempted from personal taxes, and the bachelors had to pay them. Plato condemned single men to a fine, and at Sparta they were driven at certain times to the temple of Hercules by the women, who castigated them in true military style. In the French settlements of Canada women were sent over after the men and the single men, that they might be forced to marry, were subjected to a heavy tax and to restrictions on their business and their movements generally.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned from Our Exchanges.

As part of the bankruptcy proceedings of Louis Rittenberg, the Saxtons River woolen mill was sold at auction last week to Henry Frankle, of Philadelphia. He paid about $31,000.

Chief of Police John W. Durkee of Montpelier, reports 89 arrests during the year, with an expense of $2,986.57 in that department. Ten special, two regular policemen, and Chief Durkee make up the force.

The check list for the March meeting at Bennington has been posted. It contains a few more than 2,300 names, an increase of about 100 over last year, indicating that the population of the town is 9,000 strong.

The expenditures of the school department in Rutland for the last year were $47,674.31, divided as follows: salaries, $33,625.02; printing and advertising, $17,431.31; insurance, $33; repairs, $5;

Philip M. Beaulieu, in the employ of the Champlain Transportation Co., since 1896, (most of the time as steward), with the exception of about a year, when he was in California, died Sunday evening at his home in Plattsburgh, N. Y., following a long illness which resulted from an operation for appendicitis.

The total expense of operating the Proctor hospital for the year 1907 was $12,330.19. The total number of house patients treated was 306. The district work shows that 1,382 calls were made, 1,809 hours of time being occupied in Proctor, West Rutland, 929 calls and 1,137 hours; Center Rutland, 393 calls with 435 hours; and Rutland, 18 calls with 41 hours; total calls, 3,322, hours, 3,412.

During the month of January there were 47 children born in Burlington, which is somewhat above the average.
Of this number 10 were girls and 37 were boys, which is rather unusual as boys usually lead. The youngest mother was 17 and the oldest was 40. There were several mothers under 20; twenty-two between 20 and 30; seventeen between 30 and 40 and one 40. Twelve children were the first born of their parents; fourteen were second; four were third born; six were fourth born; three were seventh born. In one family the new arrival was the tenth; in another he was the eleventh, and in still another he was the twelfth.

CLEARING UP CASES.

Addison County Court Disposed of Several Matters.

Middlebury, Feb. 6.—Addison county court devoted yesterday to clearing up unfinished matters of business. Several cases were postponed until the June term.

Fred Curran, who pleaded guilty to petit larceny in stealing a blanket and robe, was fined $20 and costs.

William Rider, convicted of a statutory offense, was sentenced to not more than two years in hard labor in the state prison at Windsor.

William Laddie was granted a divorce from Hattie Laddie for desertion and a statutory offense.

W. H. Davis moved that the will case of Josiah Cowles be re-opened, but the motion was denied by Judge W. W.
Miles.

THE JURORS DISCHARGED.

Only Court Cases Remain in Windsor County.

Woodstock, Feb. 6.—The jury in the Windsor county case regarding Lucinda King, an aged woman who petitioned for the removal of a guardian, came in about noon yesterday, having been out about fifteen minutes, and reported a verdict which declared that the woman was capable of managing her own property.
A judgment to that effect was thereupon entered.

This being the last jury case, the jurors were excused for the term. There are eight court cases and J. W. Parker advs. Isaac Gates, general assumpsit, was taken up yesterday afternoon.

NEW YORK CITY.

There is an average of 1,330 tons of transatlantic freight leaving New York city each hour of the year.

Figures obtained from New York's lighting plants show that the city uses 273,000,000 candle power nightly.

New York city averages fourteen deaths each week from falls, explosions, excavations, collapses and premature blasts.

New York's street cleaning depart-in 1908 than in 1907, the total for the latter year being $6,032,556.—New York
